About the Author:

389 married and divorced women plus 85 single women were interviewed by the author Sam Hibrawi and they all agreed on the sexually dissatisfied women problem that "there is no solution". Moreover, a newspaper front page article was published about Mr. Hibrawi along with President Bush, Jr. at the major Globe and Mail Canadian Newspaper. Also, Mr. Hibrawi was invited as a guest speaker by two Canadian radio talk shows. Additionally, he was a coauthor of a book about aging with the renowned pathologist Dr. Roy L. Walford. The research's results were published in a book which was funded by a one million dollars grant by the American National Institute Of Health. Furthermore, Mr. Hibrawi published several peer review medical and technical papers at national professional publications.

What is the Guide ?

It is about gender relations which does not include the exceptions In both women/men. Specifically, the Guide empowers women to back their feelings with science so they are facts. This way, men can no longer dismiss them as being emotional (details in the book). Moreover, they are based on natural neuro sensors spread on women's bodies which were graphically plotted in diagram formats for both front and back of the woman's body (see the book). Also, women at certain points in their lives, they will say "I am not happy". In fact, it is the male ego that has been driving women to seek divorce. Today, 80% of divorce cases are brought by women! Clearly, it is time for the guys to grow up and to stop forcing women to worry about it!

In fact, the GUIDE is a step by step instructions e. book for both women and men to show how to give the woman a full orgasm. Unfortunately, the society brain washed the women to believe they are getting orgasm from men which is not true. All, women get is a "tickle" which is the reason for their resistance to engage in sex with men. Also, if men like to get a "blow job" from their women, it is possible to do that. For more details, see the book!

Myths And Facts About Women Sexuality

1. Woman Orgasm:

This is a general term used loosely and unless qualified, it means "nothing". This is true because in women, its different from men's orgasm. It takes about one hour and it happens at different stages called "Cascade orgasm". This process occurs at different ages after puberty on different levels in some races. So far, it is not properly studied! In fact, most adult women experience low level partial orgasms with male partners. The reason because women are brain washed to conform to men's orgasm time rather than their own which takes much longer. The outcome is women frustration and sex starvation which lead to multiple negative behavioral actions including suicide. However, women do have full orgasms with trained/informed partners .

2. Men do not satisfy women sexually due to a biological reason. This is not related to penis size, pills, age, race, religion... etc. More details are in the book.

3. 10 common vagina myths

4. "squirting" in female orgasm has been proven untrue by a study which filed the following report: Squirting is essentially the involuntary emission of urine during sexual activity. Also, see: Nature and origin of "squirting" in female sexuality

5. How to Orgasm Together: The orgasm period in women and men are not compatible due to biology. However, people are sold this information to sell products and related services.

6. Pregnancy causes the vagina to be "loose". Is there a procedure for it? Yes, it is done by their own ob/gyn after delivery also available by specialists called "Uro gynecologists"

7. Isn't it true that most women have orgasms through intercourse? No. Typically, they just get a tickle and rarely a partial orgasm. However, a "full orgasm" is available with proper training.

8. Isn't it true that the virginity membrane is a myth? Yes. In fact, with female babies, at the vaginal opening, there is a group of cells which gradually fall off due to a variety of reasons such as girls' curiosity by inserting various objects, sports (riding horses, gymnastics... etc.) and penis penetration.

Nature Empowerment of Women

To build the nest, nature empowered women with the following qualities:

1. Smart
2. Sensitive
3. Considerate
4. Strong in communications
5. Multi tasker
6. Empathy for others.

Women have advanced systems which are:

- a) Reproduction:
Made of several parts which include the main organ, the vulva which is the collective name for all the external genitals. This includes the external lips, vagina, the pee hole.
- b) Sexual:
The clitoris is the tip of the iceberg and its base is imbedded in the vaginal lips. It enables the female to experience sexual pleasure. In fact, her entire vulva is an erogenous zone, which is a part of the female's body that gets sexually stimulated when touched. Also, the clitoris is the most sensitive part of the vulva. Most importantly, it contains about 8,000 nerve endings (pleasure sensors) which is 3 times more sensitive than the penis. Your clitoris has more nerve endings than any other part of your vulva. Together, these nerves can produce a range of pleasurable sensations, depending on how your clitoris is touched and how sexually aroused.

the G-spot, or Grafenberg spot is an area in the vagina that produce orgasm for women. This is not true and this wrong information have been spread for generations. In fact, women have pleasure sensors through the entire vagina (details in the book).

Cheating on their spouses:

- A. Women live in sex starvation during their entire relationships with men. They spend a life time of faking it to protect the male ego. So, they reject their men sexual advances. Also, at some point in their relationships, they want to try another male, called "affair" only to discover it was the same problem!
- B. Men cheat on their women due to repeated rejections. Other women who sexually engage those men fake it for the benefits. Again, the new relationship is doomed unless the new woman will tolerate the sex starvation for a long period.
- C. The answer: Women need to learn the steps which satisfy her sex needs. Also, the men must be trainable to learn and to apply required steps. However, resisting to do so, eventually, the relationship will end .
